

We are pleased to invite you to the 5th International Scientific Conference Information Science in the Age of Change that will take place at the University of Warsaw (Poland), 13-14 May 2019.

The conference is organized by the Department of Information Studies at the Faculty of Journalism, Information and Book Studies, the University of Warsaw, and Polish Chapter of ISKO (International Society for Knowledge Organization).

The call for papers is now open.

The leading themes of this year's conference are: information infrastructure and services and their usage in the era of evolving changes, both technological and social ones. These changes are often defined as digital revolution. Conference themes cover a wide range of theoretical and practical aspects concerning: modern tools and methods of information activities, information and knowledge organization, shaping of information architecture, the analysis and evaluation of new technologies applied in the social transfer of information and knowledge and their reception among users. We also want to discuss the context of evolution of Information Science as a subfield of Media and Communication.
